

KIDS SHOW OFF THEIR SCIENCE PROWESS

NEW MEXICAN
2/6/15

Bella Merchant, 9, from El Dorado Community School poses next to her experiment during the Santa Fe Public Schools Science Expo at Santa Fe High School on Thursday. Merchant figured out which potato chip was the greasiest. She found that Ruffles contained the most oils.

PHOTOS BY LUIS SANCHEZ SATURNO/THE NEW MEXICAN

Elianna Montoya, a second-grade student at Salazar Elementary School, and Elizabeth Crumpler, the Communities in Schools site coordinator, look at a ghost mantis from the Harrell House Bug Museum during the Santa Fe Public Schools Science expo.